

V. RATER'S COMMENTS FACTS AND SPECIFIC ACHIEVEMENTS: A1C Hensley is an outstanding and truly dedicated airman. His tasks are always completed on time with the utmost care for quality, with a minimal amount of supervision. While assigned to the floor crew, he was tasked to repair the doors of two separate general purpose shelter containers. The damage to these doors was severe, and required him to fabricate approximately 50 percent of the doors and surrounding structures. Through dedication and a high degree of technical skill, he brought the containers back to operational status in an extremely short time. He was also deployed as a team member to participate in BOLD VENTURE '85. As a team member, he aided in the erection of two general purpose shelters. The erection was completed well ahead of schedule and greatly enhanced the mission effectiveness of the exercise. STRENGTHS: A1C Hensley has a high sense of mission accomplishment. His dedication to every facet of his duties is an excellent example of a professional Air Force member. His military bearing and behavior are above reproach. He is well liked, and his ideas on work procedures are readily accepted by his peers and superiors alike. EDUCATIONAL AND TRAINING ACCOMPLISHMENTS: A1C Hensley has successfully completed all aspects of five skill level upgrade training for the 427X5 career field. OTHER COMMENTS: A1C Hensley is well versed in all aspects of his work center. He readily accepts additional duties that benefit the mission capability of the 4449th Mobility Support Squadron. Recommend promotion to senior airman at the earliest opportunity.

NAME, GRADE, BRANCH OF SERVICE, ORGANIZATION, COMMAND AND LOCATION BARRY L. REYNOLDS, SSgt, USAF 4449th Mobility Support Squadron (TAC) Holloman AFB, New Mexico	DUTY TITLE Airframe Repair Specialist	DATE 24 Jan 85
SSAN	SIGNATURE Barry L. Reynolds

VI. 1ST INDORSER'S COMMENTS CONCUR NONCONCUR
A1C Hensley's knowledge and hard work have vastly benefited this unit's mission capability. He aided in the erection of a general purpose shelter for the Holloman AFB Open House and participated in a local exhibition of base assets for a community awareness project. A1C Hensley is currently involved in the upgrade training of six airmen for their three skill level. His dedication and willingness to improve all facets of the section's operation are outstanding. I strongly recommend promotion ahead of his peers.

NAME, GRADE, BRANCH OF SERVICE, ORGANIZATION, COMMAND AND LOCATION DAVID GUILLEMETTE, MSgt, USAF 4449th Mobility Support Squadron (TAC) Holloman AFB, New Mexico	DUTY TITLE Asst NCOIC, Structural Repair and Inspection	DATE 24 Jan 85
SSAN	SIGNATURE David D. Guillemette

VII. 2D INDORSER'S COMMENTS CONCUR NONCONCUR
A1C Hensley's resourcefulness and reliability has made him an indispensable asset to the Structural Repair and Inspection Shop. His willingness to repair severely damaged facilities and ensure the structural integrity of these repairs is extremely noteworthy. I strongly recommend promotion at the earliest opportunity.

NAME, GRADE, BRANCH OF SERVICE, ORGANIZATION, COMMAND AND LOCATION TODD F. WINGLER, 1st Lt, USAF 4449th Mobility Support Squadron (TAC) Holloman AFB, New Mexico	DUTY TITLE Chief, Ops and Maint Division	DATE 24 Jan 85
SSAN	SIGNATURE Todd F. Wingler

VIII. 3D INDORSER'S COMMENTS CONCUR NONCONCUR
A1C Hensley has demonstrated his ability to accept responsibility. He was selected to help erect Bare Base facilities during basewide and community projects because of his dedication and outstanding image he displays for the Air Force. Promote.

NAME, GRADE, BRANCH OF SERVICE, ORGANIZATION, COMMAND AND LOCATION JOSEPH A. CROZIER, JR., Colonel, USAF 4449th Mobility Support Squadron (TAC) Holloman AFB, New Mexico	DUTY TITLE Commander	DATE 24 Jan 85
SSAN	SIGNATURE Joseph A. Crozier Jr.	